What we built · three acquisition efforts

1. Lead generation. Launched Julie and Courtney films, video cutdowns and static campaigns. Re-tuned the activity, then deliberately reduced volume to prioritise e-commerce.
2. Blueprint e-commerce. Launched a separate direct-purchase funnel and generated the first 3 online sales. Used the initial results to shape the relaunch.
3. Julie’s Masterclass. Built bottom-up to grow a paying community that can later convert to the full Blueprint course. Launched the website, checkout and 45 emails, backed by 66 launch ads across six test ad sets: presenter videos, film cutdowns, Reels and statics.

Masterclass buyer → full-course buyer

1 · Hybrid lead generation

E-commerce first; sales-assisted recovery

- Maintain low-volume lead generation while prioritising e-commerce.
- Send abandoned-cart prospects to sales for follow-up.
- Combine direct purchases with sales-assisted conversions.

2 · Blueprint relaunch

Separate direct-sales funnel · this week

- Relaunch with an updated landing page and a new promotion.
- Apply masterclass learnings to the offer and creative.
- Add VIP: 2 CGMs + four 15-minute one-on-one teacher sessions, one per month.

3 · Julie's Masterclass

Build the paying community; upsell Blueprint

- Target 350 sign-ups per date: 700 total by 14 November.
- Drive registrations with paid creative and the IIBS, Rosen and Longevity email blitz.
- Convert 1 in 10–12 buyers to Blueprint through sales follow-up or direct checkout.
